

Large ice fall triggered wet loose avalanche on the Slopes. Most likely released the day prior in the afternoon. Ran approx 1200' vertical from the bottom of the cliffs to midway down to the valley floor

First view of the Logan Pass Visitor Center